FROM US

The guy to your left is me, the editor of this little manuscript, and my monicker is Bud Preston. On behalf of the Senior Class and the Orient Staff, I extend my sincere thanks and gratitude to the faculty, administration, student body, to Mrs. Sharley B. DeMotte, to Jim Reid and to everyone who had a hand in the publishing of this book.

None of us will ever forget the academic year of 1950-51. The consensus of opinion seemed to be "Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow you may be drafted." Even with the ever-present 'cold' war and Korean 'police action' forever looming in our minds, we, the students of Ball State, wrote the history of the year in indelible activities and worthwhile projects.

Do you remember . . .

The Ground Breaking Ceremonies At Homecoming

The Long, Cold Winter, The Beautiful (?) Ice and Snow

The Marriage Conference

The Wonderful Convocations

The Successes Of All Athletic Teams

We feel that the gentleman on the opposite page has earned the respect and admiration of each person who has ever been affiliated with Ball State. It is due to the tireless efforts and the outstanding results wrought, plus the fact that he is a fine man, that we dedicate the 1951 Orient to Dr. Ralph Noyer, Dean of the College . . .

TO HIM

DR. RALPH NOYER

Dr. Noyer has held the position of dean of Ball State Teachers College since 1927. He had previously taught in several high schools and colleges in the Midwest. Very active in local and national teacher's associations, Dr. Noyer received his A.B. from Indiana University, his M.A. from Indiana and Iowa Universities, and his Ph.D. from Iowa.

In addition to being a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Pi Kappa Delta, and the Rotary Club, Dean Noyer added to his list of honors by being elected National President of Blue Key at a recent convention.

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE BOARD

ROBERT M. CRITCHFIELD
President

GEORGE A. BALL
Vice-President

WILBUR YOUNG
State Superintendent

WILLIAM F. CRONIN
Secretary

JOHN H. HELLER
Assistant Secretary

Serving both Ball State Teachers College and Indiana State Teachers College, the State Teachers College Board strives to better conditions, both financial and educational, at these two institutions. Members of the board are appointed by the governor of the State of Indiana.

PRESIDENT JOHN R. EMENS . . .

. . . Graduates:

College graduates today enter a world needing solutions to crucial problems in the areas of world peace, military service, domestic economic stability, the provision of educational opportunity for the increased number of children, and many others. As graduates of Ball State Teachers College you must be more than spectators in the struggle; you must take positions and participate on the side of constructive forces.

We hope that we have helped you to develop your abilities, skills, knowledges, and attitudes so that in the years to come your achievements reflect honor to yourselves and to your Alma Mater, Ball State Teachers College.

John R. Emens, President

ADMINISTRATION . . .

Dr. Hauptman, Registrar, and assistants, who make sure everybody stays in line . . . on Registration day.

Controller's office, where people get the business. Mr. Wagner, Treasurer and Business Manager was absent when this picture was taken.

Student advisers, who say you can't tell the pros without a program.

ADMINISTRATION . . .

President Emens' secretary, Dean Nayer and assistants, and the hard-working Placement office which is directed by Mr. Clevenger.

And here are the offices of Dean Richardson, Director of Student Affairs, Miss Wickham, Director of Women's Activities and Mr. Betts, Director of Men's Activities. They see that you stay in line . . . and not registration lines.

The only people on campus who fully understand the Dewey Decimal System . . . our Librarians.

SENIORS

KEITH WIBLE
President

President Wible and his fine staff of assistants have guided the Class of 1951 through a year filled with much activity on the part of the seniors. From the time the opening whistle sounded in September, till the final gun popped in June, the class was an integral part of all campus (and some off-campus) activities.

To the officers of the class of '51, and to every member who participated in class activities goes a hearty "thank you".

FROM OTHER LANDS . . .

In addition to those pictured above, other foreign students on the campus are Pilar Estella from Spain, Carmen and Ivan G. Samuels from Jamaica, Phoebe Katibah Tripp from Syria and Gerda Schuler from Germany. There are also two students from Hawaii, Oliver Ho and Terry Taniguchi.

We feel honored that these students have chosen Ball State to further their education. In helping them to adjust to the ways of American colleges, we have gained much through our mutual associations.

BOOK STORE . . .

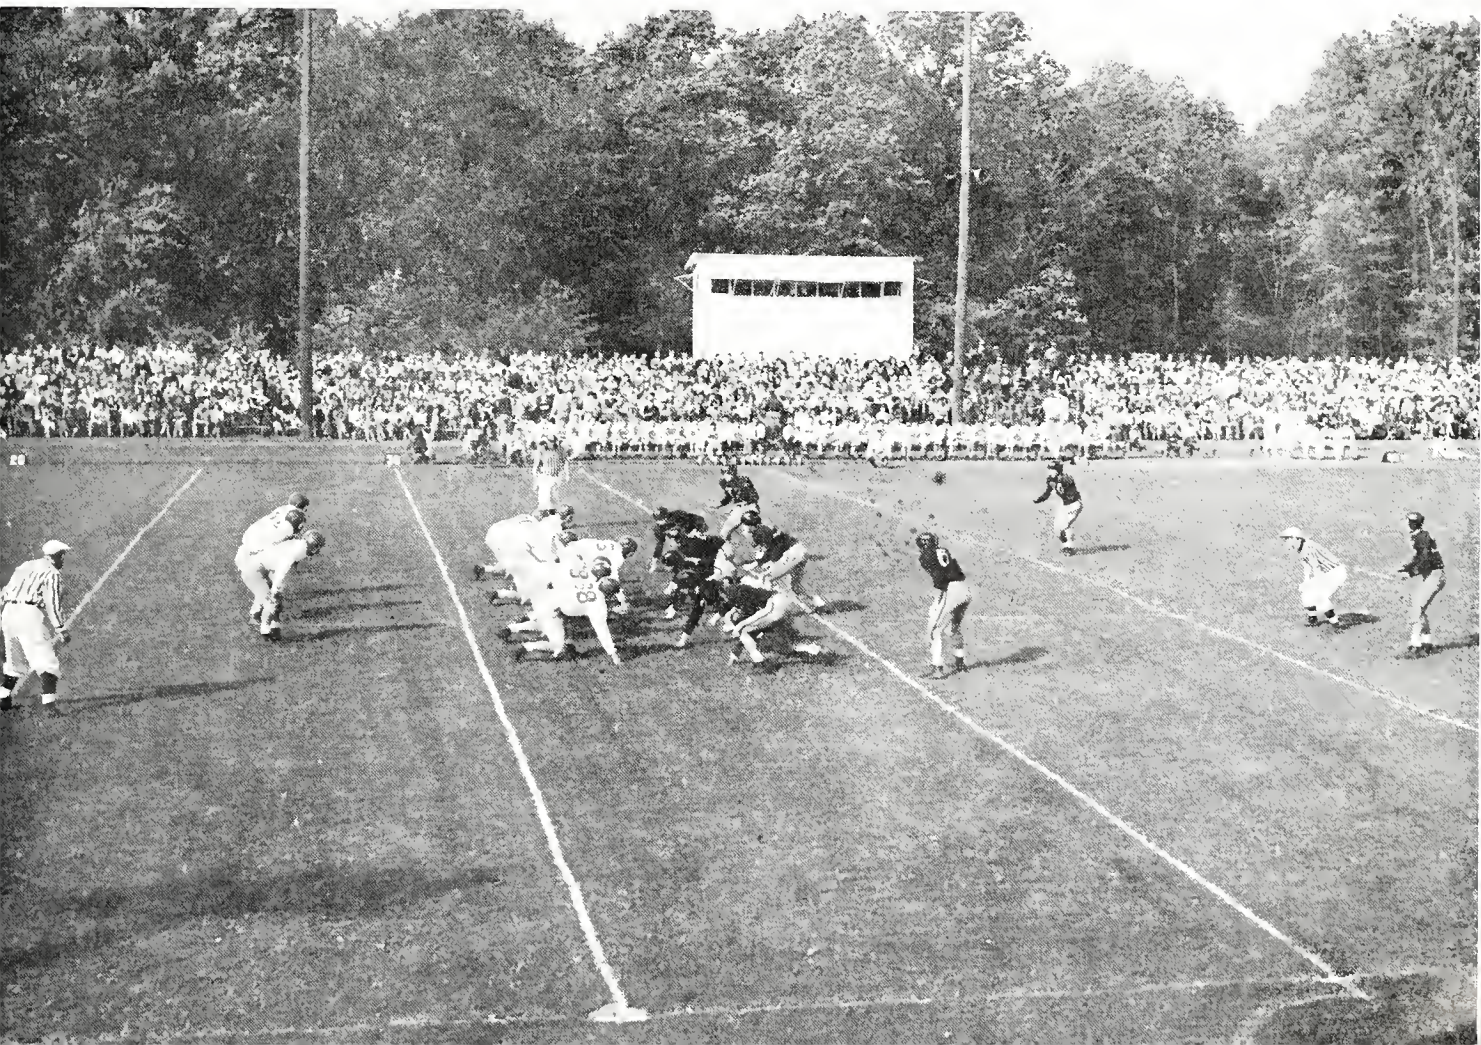

A combination drug store, sporting goods store, confectioners counter, post office, and hardware store, plus its primary purpose of supplying books and supplies to Ball State students, is the Ball State Book Store.

Managed by Miss Ruth Kitchin, the Book Store is owned by the college, operated under the direction of the business manager, and is run on a non-profit basis.

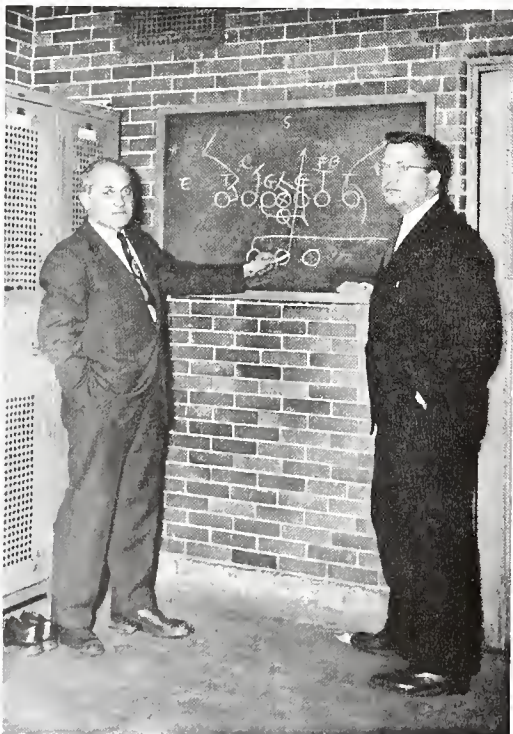

It truly serves the college and its students.

SPORTS

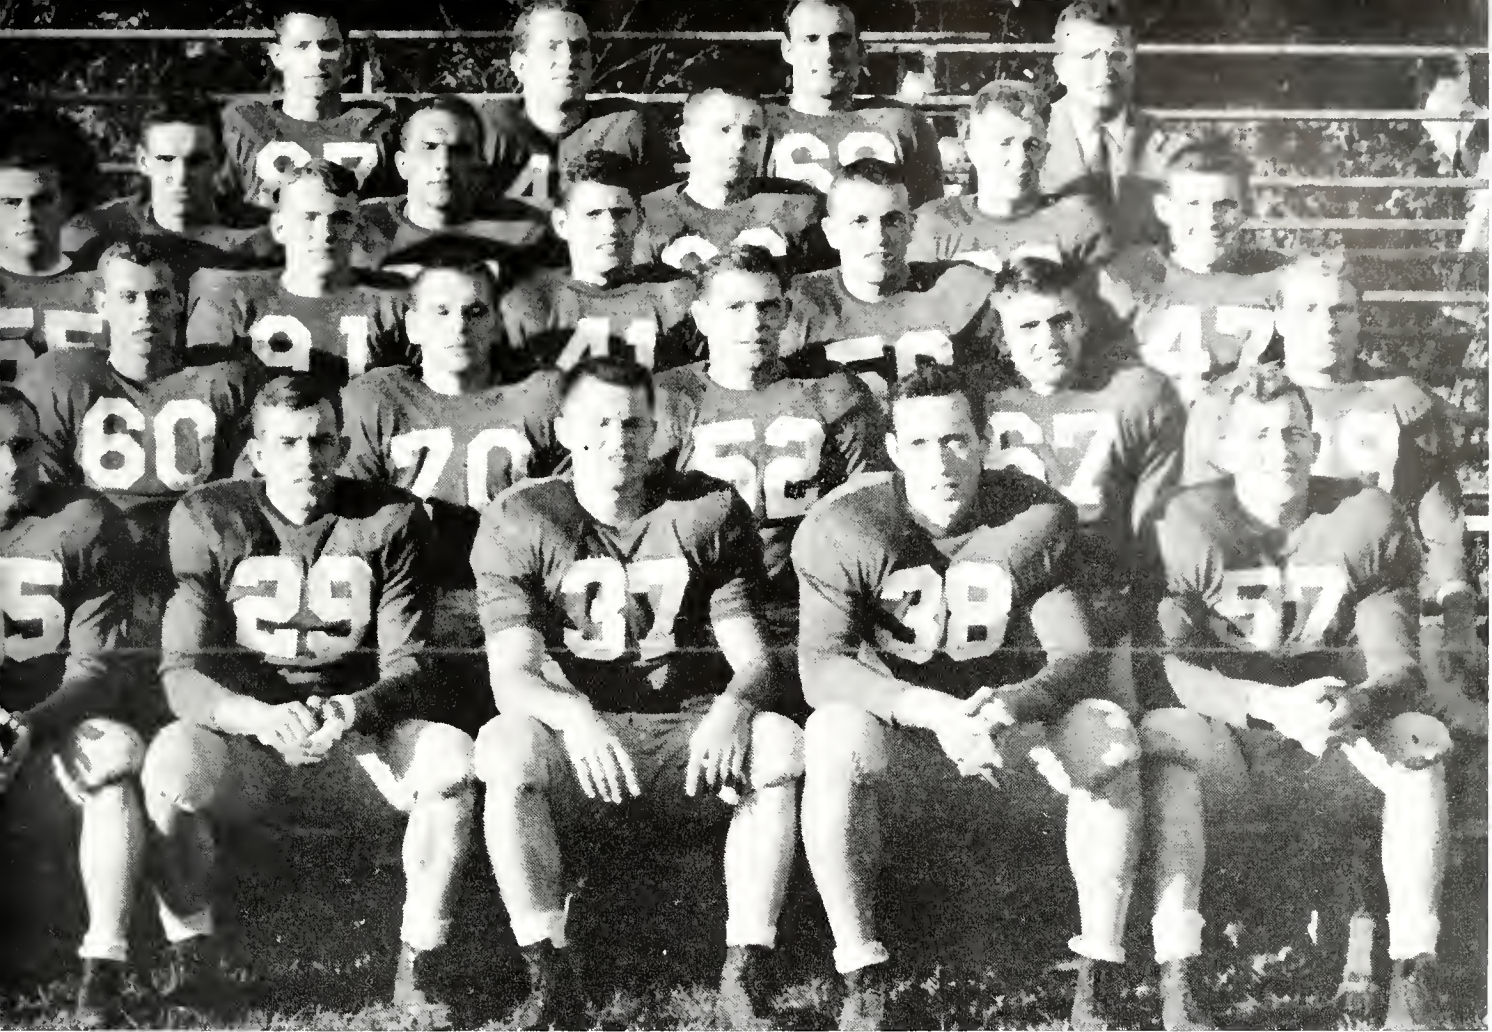

FOOTBALL . . .

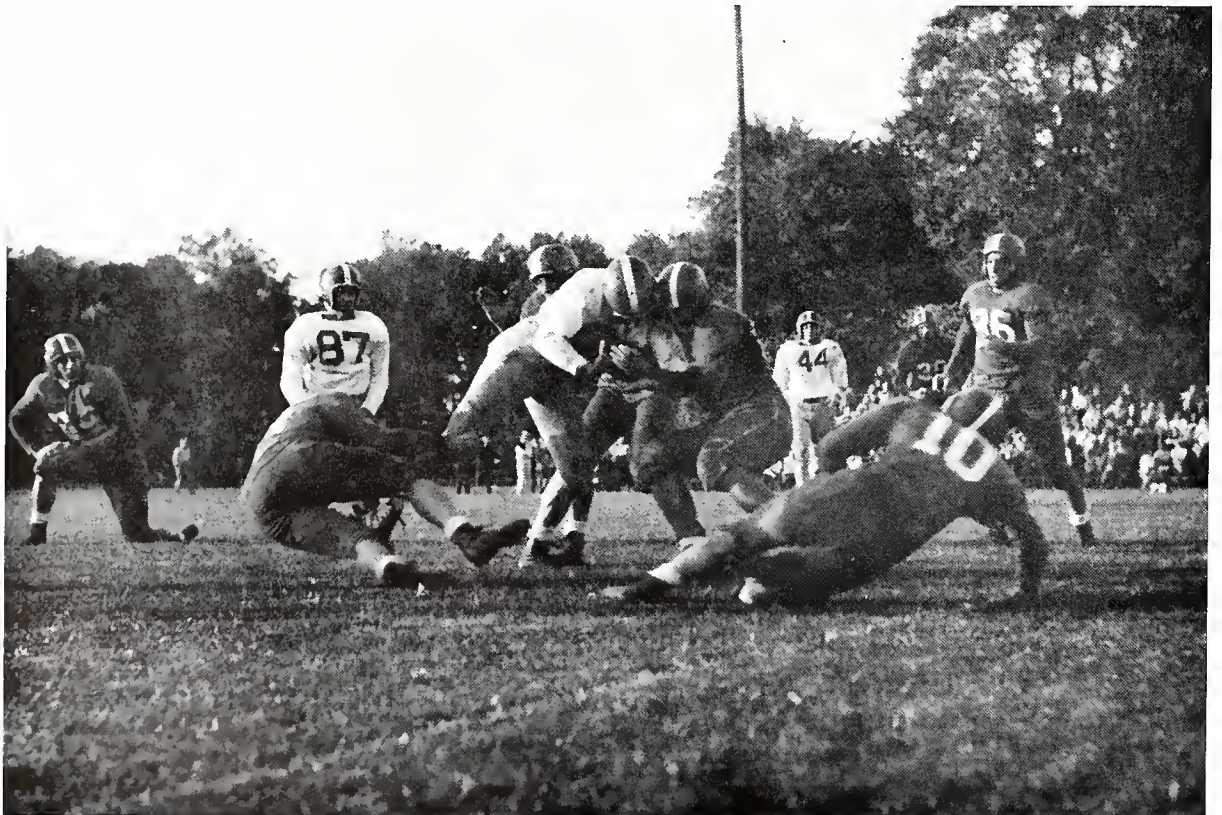

At the left, Head Coach John V. Magnabosco and Assistant Coach George Serdula discuss the prospects for the coming season. During the past two seasons the Cardinals had racked up a string of fourteen consecutive wins. Many of the stars who helped build up this enviable record were graduated in '50, and "Maggie" was faced with the tough job of rebuilding.

SEASON RECORD . . .

Ball State	6	Eastern Illinois	35
Ball State	27	DePauw	13
Ball State	7	Butler	33
Ball State	7	Valparaiso	21
Ball State	0	Michigan Normal	13
Ball State	7	St. Joseph	7
Ball State	20	Indiana State	0

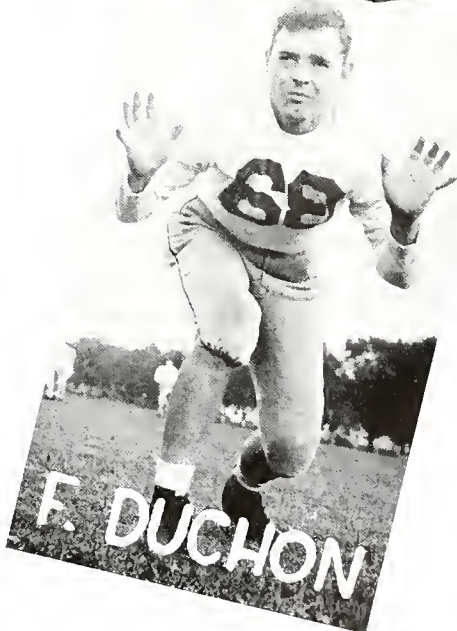

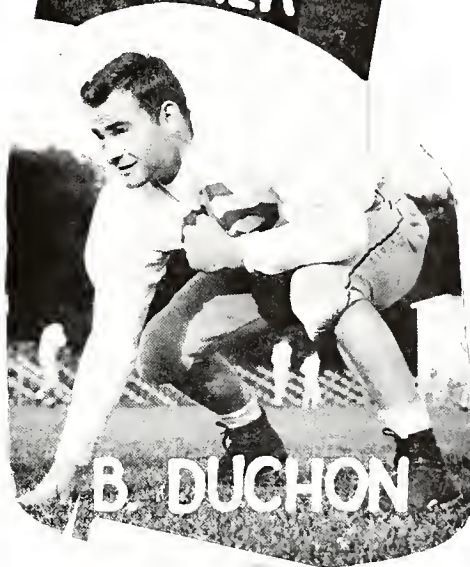

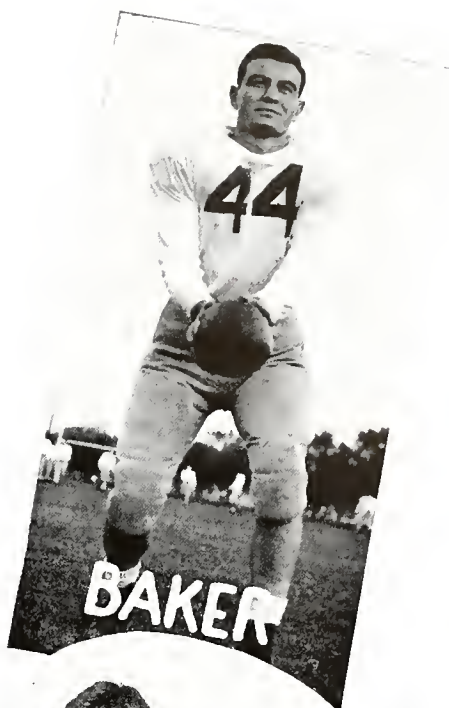

Ball State started fast against Eastern Illinois, but penalties proved costly to the Cardinals in the early stages. Eastern's Ed Soergal also became quite a nuisance with his untimely pass interceptions. A Baker-to-LaRue pass scored for Maggie's athletes.

The Cards' initial loss could be chalked up to inexperience. Only three regulars, Frank Duchon, Bob Baker and Captain Ed Bird were back from last year's high-powered squad.

After an open date, the Cardinals exploded for a 27-13 win over the DePauw Tigers. The Tigers scored first and the Cards tied it up on a six-yard plunge by Jim Parks. Line play was extra good, as large gaps were repeatedly opened in the DePauw line for Parks to ramble through. "Big Jim" played one of the best games of his three-year gridiron career.

Maggie's strategy in sending Bob Day, his plunging fullback, to quick kick, changed the complexion of the game and threw DePauw back to their goal line. Then Dick Harrison made a sensational debut by intercepting a pass and scampering across the payoff stripe.

Leading 14-13 at the end of the third quarter, the Cards played heads-up ball and scored twice in the final quarter to ice the contest. Bird and LaRue scored the Red-birds' final two tallies.

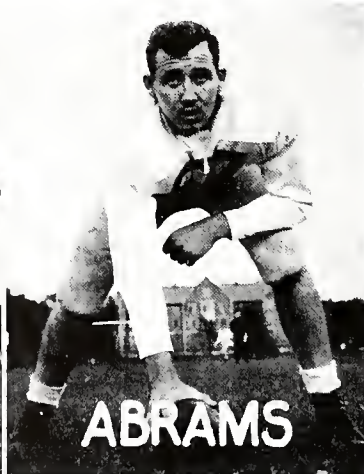

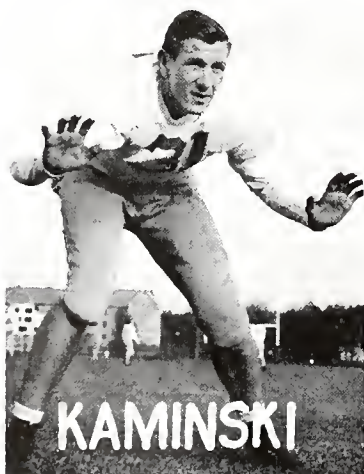

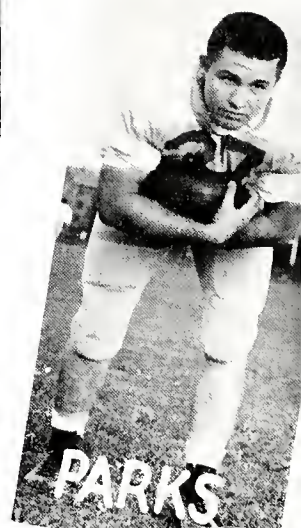

Breaking loose after a scoreless first quarter, Butler's Weidkamp broke off tackle for a touchdown jaunt to open scoring festivities. Butler power was too much for Ball State and they led 33-0 in the fourth quarter. With 17 seconds to go, Baker fired a seven-yard touchdown pass to Frank Duchon. Sparkling runs by Isenberg and good blocking set up the Cardinals' lone tally. The gun went off with the scoreboard reading Butler 33, Ball State 7.

Against Valparaisa the Red and White played brilliantly but lack of experienced reserves spelled defeat. Although on the short end of the 21-7 score, the Cards gave an excellent account of themselves. They were ahead at halftime 7-0, but scores by Parvian and Pahr gave Valpa the lead in the third quarter.

Dick Isenberg and Dan McAfee, performing before a home town crowd, displayed several fine runs. Isenberg scored for Ball State from the two-yard line. Line play by Ball State was terrific and blocking and tackling was viciously executed by both squads.

With Michigan Normal's Paige throwing passes all over the Ball State oval, the Hurons bested the Redbirds 13-0. Before a large Homecoming crowd, the Cardinals outgained Michigan on the ground but they couldn't cross that goal line. The Cards penetrated to the Huron one- and eleven-yard lines, but each time lost the ball on downs. Line play was rough as Bird, Peterson, Roberts, Palka and Brady were towers of strength.

Two evenly matched teams battled to a 7-7 deadlock as Ball State and St. Joe collided in the midst of a rain and snow storm. Don McAfee plunged through the line for Ball State's score and Bob Baker, Cardinal P.A.T. artist, kicked the pigskin through the uprights.

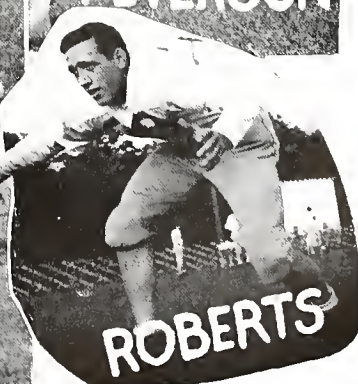

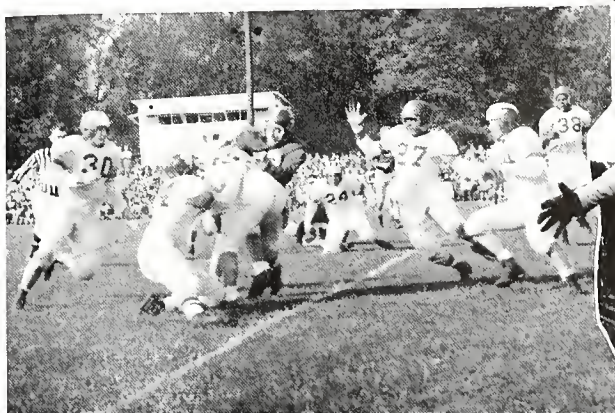

A short kick was fatal to Ball State and ten plays later St. Joe had a six-pointer. Schubert tied the game with a perfect placement. In the waning moments of the final quarter, McAfee was away for scoring territory when a St. Joe player who was sprawled on the ground, reached up and grabbed an ankle to stop "Dancin' Don" just as the final gun sounded.

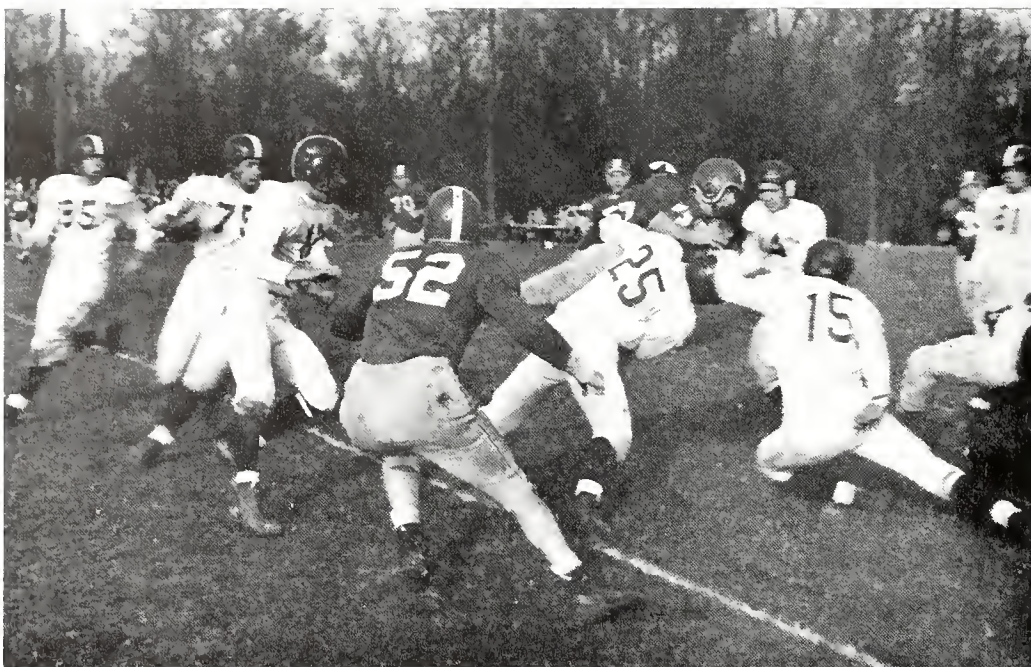

McAFEE

PETERSON

ROBERTS

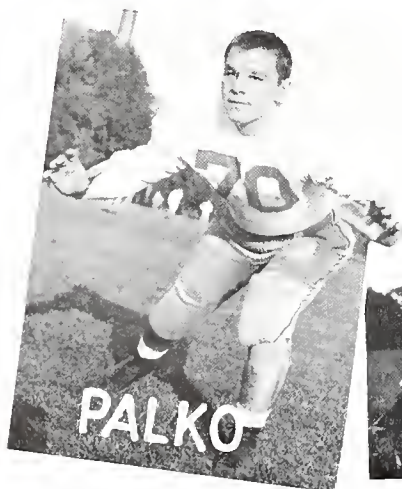

Definitely up for the final game, the Cardinals played hard and smart football. Baker, star field general, chase well directed plays. They paid off to to the clang of a 20-0 victory bell.

McAfee, Harrison and Day ran well for the Cards and Peterson, Roberts and Palka turned in fine defensive jobs. The Duchon twins from Berwyn, Illinois, LaRue and Peffley starred offensively for Ball State. McAfee broke off tackle for a 37-yard touchdown jaunt and scored again later on a two-yard end-around. Big Gene Lehman, 6' 5" tackle, picked a partially blocked pass out of the air and rambled 34 yards for the Cardinal's concluding score.

Playing their last game for Ball State were Frank Duchon, Bill Duchon, Jim Parks, Dick Roberts, Jim Hallibaugh, Stan Kaminski, Bob Baker and Captain Ed Bird.

The Duchon twins, Baker, Palka, Isenberg and Bird received all-state ratings.

At the right Freshman Coach John P. Lewellen and Assistant Coach Bill King are shown mapping out plans for the Rhinies. To these two gentlemen falls the job of preparing freshman aspirants for future varsity positions the Ball State systems of offensive and defensive play.

This season the Freshmen played two games, winning from the DePauw Freshmen and losing to the same team in a return engagement. In addition to regularly scheduled games, the Ball State first-year men serve as cannon fodder for the varsity by running opposing teams' plays against the varsity each week prior to the game on Saturday.

CROSS COUNTRY . . .

And they're off! Ball State and Michigan Normal harriers match strides at the start of the race.

With no returning lettermen, Ball State's cross country team waded through a tough schedule and snared second place in the past-season Little State Meet.

Previously the Cards had won Little State honors for three straight years, which accounted for this year's tough schedule. Lost from last year's squad were such stalwarts as Milt Brown, Bill Stairs, Woody Hughes, John Eloff and Ralph Broman.

Ball State fell victim to a quintet of star-studded teams of which Miami and Michigan Normal annually receive national ranking. In Little State competition Turner ran first, Nezamis third and Ross was sixth. Healy, Nezamis, Parker, Ross, Turner and Witters were regular runners for the Red and White throughout the season.

Coach Dick Stealy and Managers Bill Noy and Charley Boer go over plans for the next game.

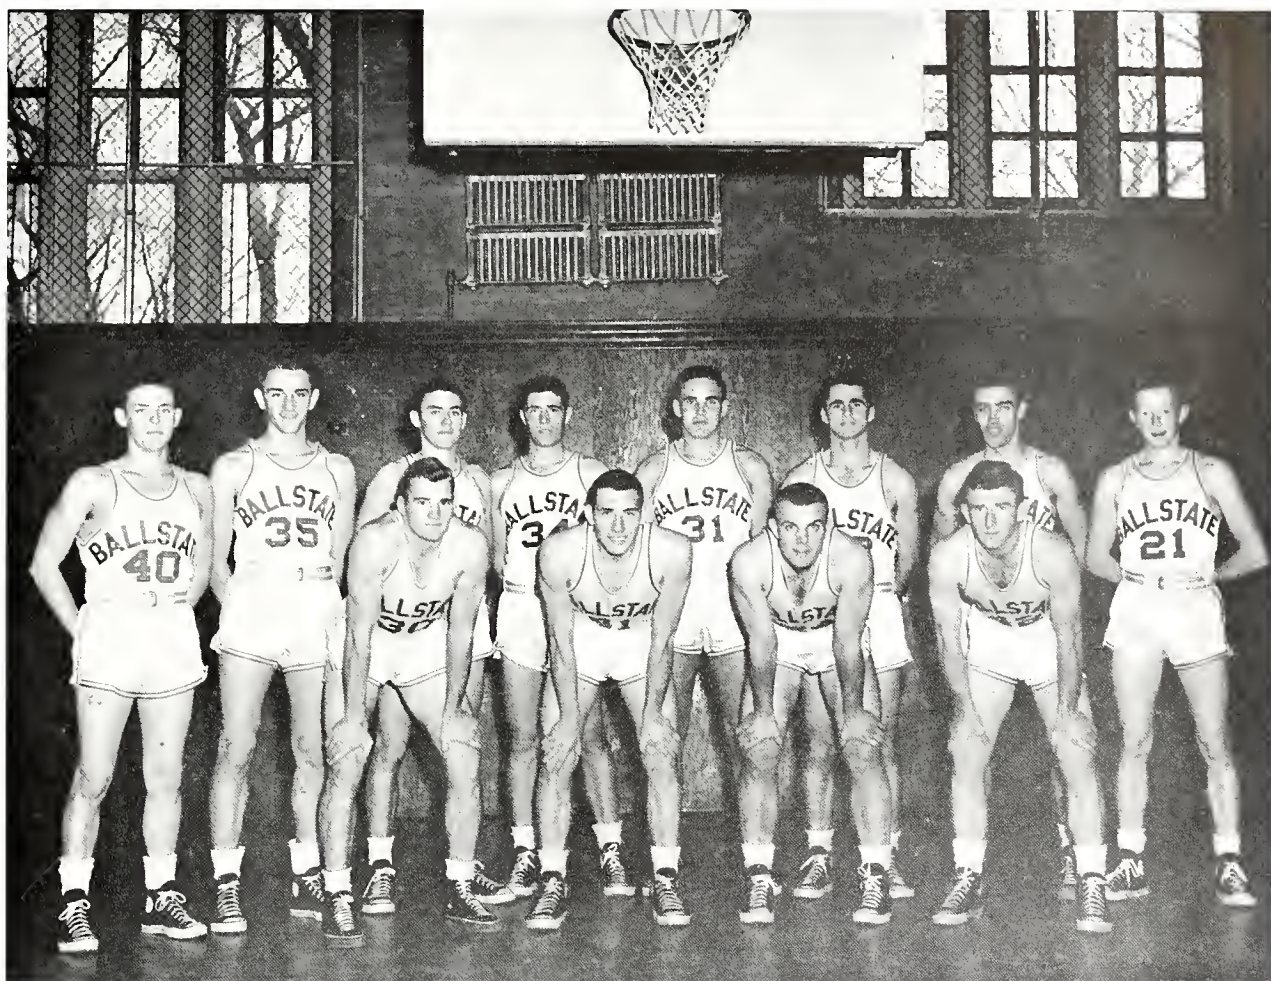

Playing their first season in the newly formed Indiana Collegiate Conference, Coach Dick Stealy's Cardinals broke even in eight games against tough competition.

Opening the season with a 72-54 win over the Oakland City Oaks, the Cards punctured the Oaks defense with fancy ball handling that resulted in several flurries of quick baskets. "Big Bill" McCally paced the scoring attack with 23 points. He was followed by Newton and Goadwin with 11 and 10 points respectively.

Traveling south, the Cardinals met a strong Hanover Panther quintet and were defeated 64-58. Hanover's Orrel and Collier ruffled the Cards' feathers with their high scoring tactics. The Red and White displayed strong offensive power with Newton tallying 16 points, followed closely by McCally with 13 and McCarter with 10.

BASKETBALL . . .

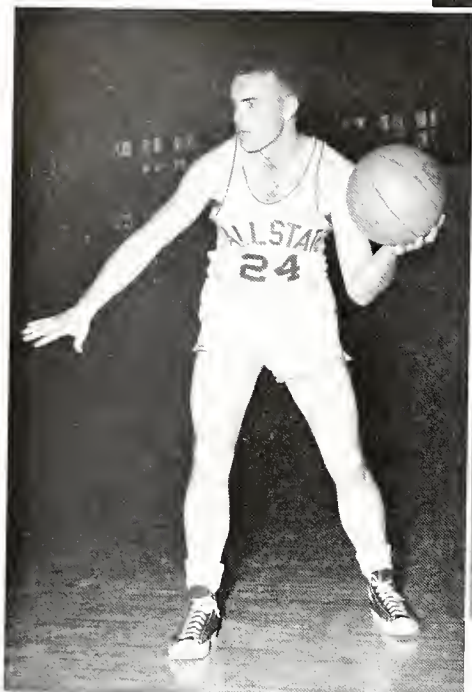

Valparaiso eked out a thriller over the Cards 54-52 in their initial conference contest. A capacity crowd of 3,000 turned out to cheer the local netmen in their conference debut. Valpo had a decided height advantage but the cagey Cardinals were not outfought. Ball State rallied after Ove, Valpo star, fauled out. But stalling by the Crusaders controlled the ball until the game's termination. Newton played brilliantly for Ball State by hitting several long and push shots good for 23 points.

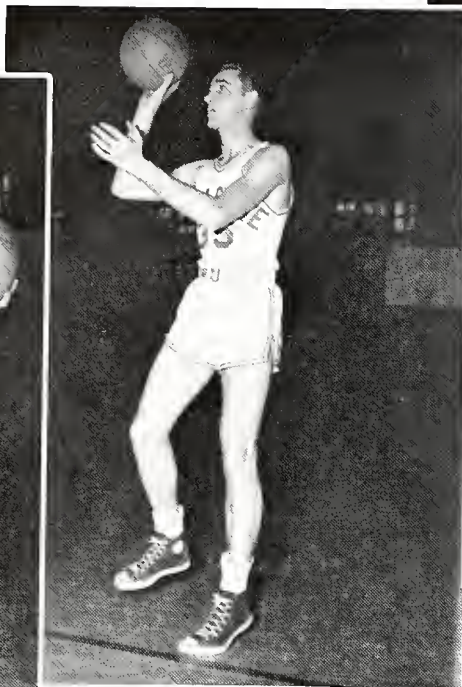

Although the Redbirds hit 1000 percent from the free throw line, they still succumbed to a fast-breaking DePauw quintet 52-46. The Cards presented a well knit defense, but were cold offensively. Newton, Goodwin and McColly sparked the Cardinal scoring.

Three days later the Cards were tripped by Western Michigan's fighting Broncos 74-47. The Bucks were aggressive defensively and they employed an effective fast break. Fred Powell paced the Red and White with 13 points.

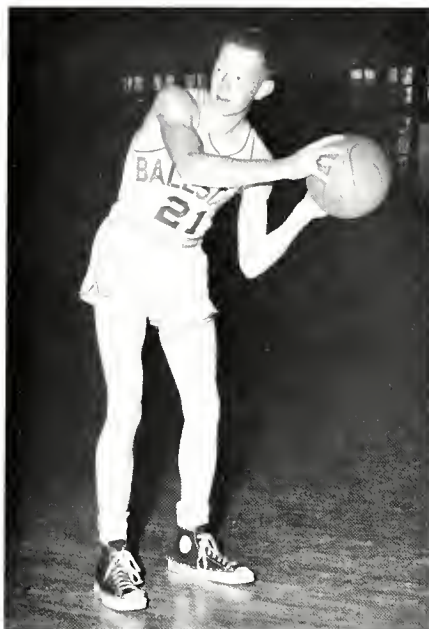

Losing clase games seemed to be a habit with the Ball Staters as they lost the next three games by clase scores to Indiana Central, Earlham and Butler.

Hamilton of DePauw outreaches Freddy Powell in a tense moment of basketball action.

The Sycamores from Indiana State trimmed the Cardinals in their next game 62-53. Both teams used full squads, and a total of 20 men threw points through the hoop. Atha and Adkins were totalizing for Indiana State with their deadly hook and push shots. Powell, McColly and McCorter were high for Ball State.

A week later the Stealymen defeated the Canterbury Knights 72-71, in a heart-thumping contest. Fred Powell, Ball State center, played brilliantly in garnering 18 points for high point honors. Coach Stealy threw his entire squad into the fracas and all but three hit the hoops for points.

Turning on the steam, the Cardinals won their next two tilts, conquering Manchester and St. Joe. McColly, McCarter, Newton, Schneider and Boyd starred in these games. The local helpers functioned as a well-organized unit to overcome height advantages.

GEORGE STEWART

McCarter and Goodwin are the principal characters in an under-the-basket melee with Indiana Central.

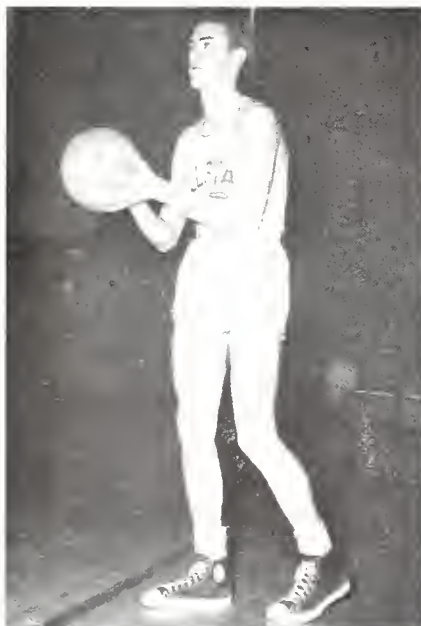

After losing to Indiana State, the Ball State five jumped back into the win column with a 64-56 win over St. Joseph. Hitting a 39.3 percentage from the field, the red-hot Redbirds burnt the nets with a consistent flow of two-pointers.

The Cardinals were defeated decisively in their next two outings. Wobash administered a 79-67 lacing and DePauw outclassed the Birds 55-37. A return engagement with Manchester was not much better, as the Spartans won out 63-58.

Gerold Goodwin was the hero of the day as Ball State upset mighty Valparaiso 77-76, in an Indiana Collegiate Conference game. "Goody" uncorked the winning shot with less than ten seconds remaining in the game. "Red" Schneider played one of his best games of the season, along with Bob Newton, Bill McColly and Fred Powell.

Butler was Ball State's next victim, as they conquered the Hinklemen 65-46. The Bulldogs used 17 men in an attempt to stay in the ball game. Powell and Goodwin topped the scoring agenda for Ball State.

In the season finale, the Cards staved off a lost minute rally to down Franklin 67-63. Ralph Ferguson, Grizzly forward, staged a one-man show as he scored 10 points in the last four minutes. Bill McColly closed out his college career by meshing 21 points. In addition to playing a fine floor game, Phil McCortor tossed in nine markers.

With the season's end, all eyes are focused on next year's prospects. Coach Stealy loses two fine men in McColly and McCortor, who will be graduated. Uncle Sam willing, the hoop squad of '51-'52 should be loaded with experienced athletes. Despite their eight won, twelve lost record, this year's edition deserves much praise for its fine conference showing, and the never-say-die spirit displayed in every game.

SWIMMING . . .

Ball State's swimming team broke even in eight meets this season. Coach John Lewellen's natators garnered second place in Little State competition, trailing DePauw's powerful crew.

Bob Zehring, star diver, was undefeated in his specialty and Jackson, Carr, Gallamare and Burris also splashed to several winning positions. Graduating seniors are Jim Burris, Max Jackson, Dan Bishop, Bob Gallamore and manager Stan Kaminski.

Jupiter Pluvius reigned for many weeks this spring, causing several postponements of early season games. At the left Manager Marvin Gordon, Coach 'Billy' Williams and Assistant Coach Tucker Morris discuss the doubtful condition of the diamond.

Ball State braved the elements to win its first game in early April. Taylor University was a 3-0 victim as Sherman Hall pitched four and one-half innings of hitless ball in a steady drizzle.

The starting lineup for the Taylor game included lettermen Buck Wasson, catcher; Sherm Hall, pitcher; Bill McColly, first base; Hank Zawacki, left field; Bud Preston, center field; and Paul Davis, right field. Banjo Belangee, from last year's squad, started at second base and two newcomers, Jim Kunnen, shortstop, and Bill Loose, third base, showed promise of becoming steady performers for the Card nine.

Faced with the enviable task of defending the Little State crown, which they have won for the past three years, Ball State's track team is also looking forward to a tough schedule in addition to initial performances in the Indiana Collegiate Conference.

Although Coach Magnabosco has lost many track stars from the 1950 squad through graduation, the '51 squad has good scoring balance. Eligibility of freshmen, plus the fine showing made by the sophomores in winning the interclass meet, make Cardinal track prospects for the future bright indeed.

Beginning the social calendar at Ball State, the Phi Deltas and the Psi Thetas presented "Serenade to the Stars." Of course, the year was filled with the usual events—smakers, parties, pledge classes, leaf rake party, homecoming activities, athletics, Monday night meetings, and elections.

Highlighting the year's activities for the Phi Deltas was the never-to-be-forgotten first annual "Washingtonian." This event held at the Delaware County Country Club gave all the graduating Phi Deltas something to remember and all the returning Phi Deltas something to strive for.

Loyalty, scholarship, and fraternity—goals of Phi Delta Pi—have been the guides for our activities this year.

Sigma Tau Gamma is the largest men's fraternity in its field. It is a young fraternity, being founded in June, 1920, at Warrensburg, Missouri, and is a member of National Interfraternity Conference. It ranks in the top ten of more than one hundred fraternities for the number elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. Especially significant is the fact that the average number of members per chapter was far greater in Sigma Tau Gamma than in any of the larger liberal arts groups in the first eight places.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA . . .

The principles of Sigma Tau Gamma are to promote scholarship, leadership, and to build Citizens of tomorrow through the use of the words, "Cooperation, Consideration, and Character." The national organization presents annual awards of Honor Keys to the members in each chapter with the highest records in scholarship and campus activity. The local chapter, while being active on all phases of campus activity, is particularly outstanding in athletics. It has members participating in every varsity athletic event offered at Ball State. It has also won the championship intramural trophy for the past two years.

South Hall Sues will always remember the fun and friendships they enjoyed in their first year of dormitory life. Some of the hall activities included a Dorm Link Party with North Hall, the Christmas Breakfast, a Variety Show, and an Open House on Parent's Day. Interest hours offered opportunities for learning and thinking together.

Casual get-togethers, spreads, singing around the piano, cards and talking "it" over provided many happy experiences.

Dorm activities filled the lives of Elliott Hall residents this year with the usual amount of riot and hilarity.

But adding to the typical fun of dorm living was the Christmas party for eighty-eight underprivileged boys, the party for Lucina Hall, coffee hours for graduating seniors, movies for the fellows, and the closed dance in the spring.

First row: Mr. W. D. Mortinson.

Second row: Jack Leshner, Mel Crismon, Robert Dittmer.

The Jackson Club is the college division of the Young Democratic Clubs in Indiana. The first Ball State chapter was formed in 1947.

Its purpose is to stimulate interest in politics with a goal of achieving good government. Working toward this end in 1950-1951, the club had panel discussions, speakers, and movies. These social functions have given the Jackson Club a varied and inclusive program for the year.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE CLUBS . . .

Foreign Language Clubs at Ball State are composed of departmental organizations of the Spanish, German, and Latin departments. Separate meetings of each of the clubs are held at intervals during the year.

Although each club fosters a different language, the aims of each organization are similar.

DEBATE TEAM . . .

The 1950-51 Debate Squad consisted of Gene Cogan and Bill Tyndall on the affirmative with Ella Georgeff and Dick Evans on the negative. The two-team average was approximately .790 for the season.

Mr. Evans was rated the second best speaker in a field of four hundred at the Purdue Conference. Mr. Tyndall was rated in the top ten in a field of four hundred at the Hoosier Conference.

The team journeyed to: Bowling Green, Ohio, Franklin College, Manchester College, Purdue, DePauw, and Indiana University during the season.

The national collegiate question for the year was: Resolved that all non-communist nations should form a new alliance.

The Newman Club is an organization promoting the fellowship and unity of all Catholic students on campus. It aims to foster the spiritual, intellectual, and social interests of the Catholic students at Ball State. The Newman Club is affiliated with the National Federation of Newman Clubs.

The local chapter started its year with a "Get-Together" for the Freshmen after "Know Your Church Night." Other activities have included a Christmas party, monthly communion breakfasts, Valentine's party, a Day of Recollection, and a spring picnic.

Fortune looked down upon the Newman Club this year as the members initiated new young people into its group in the basement of the newly acquired estate of St. Mary's.

BAPTIST STUDENT FELLOWSHIP . . .

OFFICERS

President — Albert Casteel
Secretary — Shirley Hempill

SPONSORS

Miss Mary Elizabeth Wood
Miss Mary Johnson
Miss Mina M. Johnson
Mr. Judson Betts
Mr. Duane Sandgren

The Baptist Student Fellowship held its initial session January 30, 1951. Albert M. Casteel was elected president and Shirley M. Hempill was elected secretary.

At the second meeting Reverend Lewis E. Maples was the guest speaker; the group decided to have a dinner meeting each Sunday evening at Lucina Hall Cafeteria followed by an hour of fellowship.

To promote fellowship, worship, training, spiritual guidance, and service among the Baptist students on Ball State campus are the purposes of the organization.

WESLEY FOUNDATION . . .

OFFICERS

President — John Dicken
Vice-President — Carolyn Bougher
Secretary — Marjorie Hull
Treasurer — Paul Olmstead

Wesley Foundation is a student religious organization sponsored by the Methodist Church on state college campuses with the purpose of religious development and promotion of worship and church attendance by the student members; it is open to the entire campus.

WESLEY FOUNDATION . . .

SPONSORS

Rev. Van W. Hinkley
James Babbitt

Programs arranged on subjects of special interest have included an outstanding series on the Methodist Church and another discussing the churches through which God is worshipped.

Keeping the goal of meeting the spiritual needs of the members in mind, Wesley has incorporated into its program opportunities for service, fellowship, and spiritual growth.

LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION . . .

OFFICERS

President — Allen Heuss
Vice-President — James Wagner
Secretary-Treasurer — Judy Heuss
Assistant Secretary — Barbara Helm

SPONSORS

Rev. C. E. Stevenson
Mr. Leslie J. Mauth
Mr. George Serdula

Better known as L.S.A., the organization received its official stamp of approval from S.E.C. in January of 1951 after a little more than a year of varied bi-monthly meetings. Thirteen members' names appear on the original charter.

Outstanding activities for the year included a Christmas party given for fifteen unfortunate children and a supper and program in April to entertain a group of L.S.A. members from Purdue University.

The group also held several social gatherings and heard a number of faculty members and community residents speak on contemporary subjects.

WESTMINSTER FOUNDATION . . .

OFFICERS

President — Georgia Neihardt
Vice-President — Nile Harper
Secretary-Treasurer — Nancy Keasy

SPONSORS

Dr. O. T. Richardson
Miss Pearl Shipely
Dr. William Suttan

There has been a college age group of Presbyterian students on campus for many years, but not until March of this year did they organize.

The purpose of the foundation is to unite the Presbyterian students for a weekly meeting of worship and fellowship.

The main events of the year included: youth rallies with the other youth groups of the church, installation of officers, night of entertaining high school seniors, a Christmas party, a chili supper, an Easter meeting, and a spring picnic.

The Religious Council is the interfaith group which plans and promotes religious action among the students at Ball State. From the Religious Activities Office in Ad. 111, it made its influence felt in such campus concerns as "Know-Yaur-Church Night," the "What Do I Owe?" Conference, and the interfaith dinners.

Members of the Council are selected by the church groups and by the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. The co-operative efforts of this interfaith council are meant to serve the religious needs of the students and the campus.

And here's the staff, part of it at least, that has spent so many weeks of work in an attempt to create this college annual. She sure has been a job, but a lot of fun at the same time.

On the opposite page are the other staff members. They've done their share of the work too. There should be no doubt in your minds that they are on the staff. Most of them look as if they're going on a long distance trip judging from the bags under their eyes.

Thanks to Mrs. Sharley B. DeMatte, English professor, publicity director, and overseer of the Ball State News and the Orient, this year's staff has had a reliable person to consult when the going got rough.

The staff and everyone involved in producing the 1951 Orient owes a mighty award of approval to all the generous co-operation it has received in order to make this annual possible.

This is the 1951 ORIENT business staff, whose job it was to finance and sell the yearbook.

Much patience and co-operation is essential to the successful publication of a yearbook. Thanks to all the staff members, faculty advisors, organizations, and individuals who have helped to make the financial success of the ORIENT possible.

ALSO, thanks to the local merchants who have shown support of the college through their advertising.

BALL STATE NEWS EDITORIAL STAFF . . .

Performing a commendable service to the school, the Ball State News has continued to grow and improve. One might say its growth parallels that of the college.

Appearing each Friday, the News publishes special six-page issues for the year's two biggest events, Homecoming and Commencement.

Along with the regular news reporters, students, alumni, townspeople and teachers also contribute to the news. It is because of these many friends that the Ball State News has continued to grow and maintain its high standards of newspaper writing.

BUSINESS STAFF . . .

Front: Mickey Brewer, Joyce Lipp, Borbora Mottingly, Marcella Mathys, Catherine Bernhardt.
Back: Bill Schooler, Kent Richwine, Kenny Miles, Pat Doyle, Homer Fish, Jim Gunn, Business Manager.

The Ball State News has enjoyed financial success as a result of both many long hours of work and the close guidance of the faculty advisor, Basil M. Swinfard.

Jim Myers served as Business Manager during the fall quarter and Jim Gunn succeeded him for the winter and spring quarters. Circulating Managers were Mickey Brewer and Marcella Mathys. Homer Fish handled the duties of Advertising Manager and Pat Doyle was the Exchange Editor.

HOME MANAGEMENT HOUSE . . .

The person who coined the adage, 'experience is the best teacher', must certainly have had in mind the school Home Management House. It is a residence which is used as a practical laboratory in family living by home economics students.

Infant care, which includes a live, permanent subject, cooking, serving, keeping house and applying a multitude of textbook theories and ideas are a few of the things which make up life in the house.

The pictures on this page prove that it's a pretty good deal.

BALL STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

Fully Accredited

MEMBER OF

American Association of Colleges for Teachers Education

AND

North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools

PLACED ON APPROVED LIST

Association of American Universities

AND

American Association of University Women

This state college offers courses for Superintendents, Principals, High School Teachers, Counselors, Supervisors, Elementary Teachers, Nurses, and students on preprofessional courses. Work leading to the Master of Arts degree in Education, as well as an additional year of work toward the doctorate, is offered, in addition to the four-year college course.

Special attractions for the two 1951 summer terms include workshops, field trips, book exhibits, music clinics, concerts, dramatics, eminent speakers, and recreational programs.

Twenty-eight freshman courses, including Air-ROTC, are offered, beginning June 11, to meet the needs of high school graduates who wish to enter college before they are called by the armed services.

Students who wish to become master teachers in subject matter fields will find new courses offered. Elementary teachers have gained new recognition in assurance of a position, increased salaries, and an awakened public interest. A definite shortage of teachers still exists; therefore, to meet the demand, outstanding high school students should be encouraged to enter the teaching profession.

Ball State is a growing institution. The enrollment has reached 3,000, the highest in the history of the college. The faculty has been increased to more than 150. The new L. A. Pittenger Student Center Building and the business education and home economics units of the new Practical Arts Building are now under construction. A campus plan to take care of the expansion in the future and the location of additional buildings has been prepared. The campus now includes more than 200 acres, several of which are a natural forested area.
